Appendix A Summary Analysis of the WRES 2023

1. Introduction

In 2019, the Workforce Disability Equality Standards (WDES) were introduced with the primary objective of enhancing the working experiences of individuals with disabilities and those managing long-term health conditions (LTC) who are either currently employed by or seeking employment within the National Health Service (NHS). This initiative entails the systematic collection of evidence-based metrics, which serve as a valuable tool for organisations to gain deeper insights into the experiences of their workforce. Within this framework, there exist ten workforce metrics, as indicated in Table 1 below, facilitating a comparative analysis of data and responses from both disabled and non-disabled personnel.

The WDES report serves as a crucial instrument for pinpointing disparities and barriers encountered by disabled employees in the workplace, as compared to their non-disabled counterparts. The findings extracted from this report play a pivotal role in shaping the organisation's WDES Action Plan. This plan is strategically designed to directly confront and rectify the inequalities that disabled staff members may face.

Within this context, the present report serves as a means to highlight the progress achieved thus far, identify areas requiring improvement, and delineate actionable steps for the forthcoming year. These actions are intended to foster improved outcomes for both disabled staff and those grappling with long-term health conditions, specifically concerning the ten NHS WDES metrics.

To compile the data for the WDES return, information has been sourced from the South Central Ambulance Service's (SCAS) Electronic Staff Records (ESR). Notably, disability-related data is consistently collected through a voluntary self-reporting mechanism among our staff members. This emphasis on staff declaration of disability is of utmost importance, as it enables the South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) to provide a comprehensive and accurate representation of the disability landscape within the organisation.

However, the ratio last year was 1.03, a figure below 1.00 indicates that Disabled candidates are more likely to be appointed from shortlisting.

Specifically, 1,083 out of 2,156 Non-disabled candidates were appointed from shortlisting (50.2% of Non-disabled candidates) compared to 81 out of 206 Disabled candidates (39.3% of Disabled candidates).

3. WDES progress in 2022/2023

We continue to implement and monitor the WDES action plans and have implemented our ED&I strategy which includes our statutory required Equality Objectives. We also published our Annual Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) report and provide a six-month update of our WDES to the Executive and Board. As part of the CQC inspection a portfolio of evidence was provided with the Head of ED&I interviewed for the 'Well-led' their criteria.

The metrics we need to progress on in the following year are:

- The relative likelihood of Disabled staff compared to non-disabled staff being appointed from shortlisting and will be addressed in the Action implementation plans (metric 2)
- The percentage of disabled staff experiencing harassment, bullying or abuse from managers continues to grow and will be addressed in the Action implementation plan (metric 4). There was also a slight increase in negative behaviours from colleagues that will require monitoring.
- Percentage of disabled staff/LTC who believe that their organisation provides equal opportunities for career progression or promotion. Addressed in the Action implementation plan (metric 5)
- The Percentage of disabled/LTC staff satisfied with the extent to which their organisation values their work. Addressed in the Action implementation plan (metric 7)
- Percentage of disabled staff with a long-lasting health condition/illness saying their employer has made adequate adjustment(s) to enable them to carry out their work. Addressed in the Action implementation plan (metric 8)
- To better engage with Disabled staff. Addressed in the Action implementation plan

We have made progress and are doing better than the comparable Ambulance Trusts on most metrics.

Our key achievements of note over the year have been:

- We have re-launched and re-branded our Disability Network, now called DARE (Disability Awareness, Recognition and Equality Staff Network)
- We have had a consistent increase in the number of staff declaring a disability or Long Term Health Condition (LTHC) (metric 1)
- We have added capacity to Freedom to speak up team to further ensure a targeted approach and support mechanism for disabled staff (metric 4)
- The percentage of disabled staff experiencing harassment, bullying or abuse from patients, relatives, or the public for during this year's National Staff Survey (NSS) was 41.5% a drop from the previous year (45.7%). We are also better than the comparable Ambulance Trusts average for disabled/LTC staff at 50.2%. (metric 4a)
- Added fields to enable monitoring all Protected Characteristics on DATIX
- The percentage of disabled staff who have felt pressure from their manager to come to work, despite not feeling well enough to perform their duties was 32.8% a drop from the previous year (34.0%). We are better than the comparable Ambulance Trusts average for disabled/LTC staff was 37% (metric 6)

- Create Board Champions that are aligned to the Protected Characteristic and be ambassadors for the Staff Networks (metric 10)
- We redesigned published documents to meet the Public Sector Bodies (Websites and Mobile Applications) (No. 2) Accessibility Regulations 2018

4. Conclusion and next steps

The action and interventions identified in this report are both behavioural and structural and form part of a significant culture change programme which takes time, energy, and leadership. Nevertheless, the report indicates that although we have a long way to go in implementing and embedding the plan, we are making steady progress and often doing better than comparable Ambulance Trusts.

Nevertheless, this (WDES) report has also given us the opportunity to self-reflect and go beyond 'business as usual'. We will be delivering our next steps through Action implementation plan and will include ongoing reviews of actions mentioned in this report.
